Policy on and procedures relating to student academic engagement and fitness to study

Introduction

1. The purpose of this document is to outline the appropriate procedures that staff should take when concerns are raised regarding a student’s academic engagement and/or fitness to study at the University and/or within a placement. It should be read alongside the Policy on and procedures for students returning to or repeating study and the Policy and procedures for suspensions.

2. In order to maintain the standards of scholarship, personal integrity and communal life essential to the existence and good name of the University, students are expected to take responsibility for organising their academic work, their personal lives and their participation in the University community in line with the University’s Regulations for Student Conduct (see Section G of the University Calendar http://www.reading.ac.uk/internal/Calendar/).

3. There are times when it is not in the best interests of a student, or the University and its community, to allow the student to continue studying because they are not fit to do so. It is appropriate for the University in these circumstances to recommend course suspension or permanent withdrawal from studies.

4. In cases where students are undertaking courses which lead to a professional qualification in one of the regulated health or social professions, the University’s Fitness to Practise procedures (http://www.reading.ac.uk/web/FILES/qualitysupport/FitnessToPractise.pdf) should be followed where there is a cause for concern.

5. Where the conduct, or one element of the conduct, which has caused concern falls in to a category of misconduct dealt with through other disciplinary processes within the University, it is important that those processes are concluded prior to the determination of academic engagement and fitness to study via the process outlined below. However, a student may be suspended from their programme and/or a placement pending an investigation where deemed necessary. Prior to the disciplinary processes being concluded, the allegations remain undetermined and therefore cannot be taken into account with regard to academic engagement and fitness to study. However, where academic engagement and fitness to study are a concern, every reasonable effort will be made to expedite the process(es).

6. In following the procedures outlined in this document, staff should at all times ensure that they use the appropriate level of confidentiality.

7. The procedures relating to academic engagement and fitness to study comprise three stages. Should a student be unwilling to play a part in these stages, or should the situation be sufficiently serious, then progress through the stages may still continue in the student’s absence.

8. A student has the right to be accompanied to any meeting by a ‘friend’. A ‘friend’ for this purpose, is defined as: an adviser from Reading University Students’ Union Advice Service team, a current member of staff of the University of Reading, a currently registered student of the University of Reading, or a RUSU Student Officer. A person who does not fall within these categories will not be able to act as a ‘friend’ unless otherwise agreed by the Chair. Disabled Students may also be accompanied by a Support Worker in addition to a ‘friend’, as appropriate to their needs.

9. Schools will be responsible for facilitating alternative arrangements for students who cannot reasonably be expected to attend relevant meetings in person, e.g. students on distance learning programmes.

What is meant by “academic engagement” and “fitness to study”?

10. A student is academically engaged if they comply with the academic requirements stated in the University’s Statement of learner responsibilities (http://www.reading.ac.uk/web/FILES/qualitysupport/learnerresponsibilities.pdf), in particular those requirements relating to engagement with the personal tutorial system, attendance and participation in academic classes and submission of coursework.

11. A student is fit to study if they can consistently and effectively undertake their studies in a way that does not endanger him/herself or other members of the University.

12. Students may present themselves as not fit to study through submission of an Extenuating Circumstances or Programme Suspension Request form. Alternatively, a cause for concern may be raised by any third party, such as other students, academic or administrative staff to the Senior Tutor or the SDTL.

13. Cause for concern as to a student’s academic engagement or fitness to study can be raised relating to a wide range of behaviours, including, but not limited to:
   - Non-engagement with study;
   - Not being fit to study, which may or may not be related to any of the following:
     - Substance misuse;
     - Health issues (mental or physical);
     - Aggressive, violent or threatening behaviour;
     - Inappropriate attitude or behaviour;
     - Health concerns and lack of insight or management of these concerns;
     - Circumstances putting staff or student safety or wellbeing at risk;
     - Failure to meet conditions placed on their fitness to return (where applicable), and
     - Multiple/serial Extenuating Circumstances claims or requests for suspension of studies.

14. Concerns should be acted upon as quickly as possible in order to provide appropriate support and avoid crisis situations. In crisis or emergency situations staff should consult the University’s Staff Guide to supporting Students with Mental Health difficulties.

Stage 1 – School Review

15. When a cause for concern has been raised by the student or others, the normal expectation is that the following will take place at School level.
• The student should be encouraged to speak to their Personal Tutor or any other appropriate member of staff in their academic department about their circumstances or conduct. The student may be unaware that there is an issue, and the details of the concerns should be made clear.

• Options should be discussed in relation to the needs of the student and any support that the University can provide. Where appropriate, reasonable adjustments that can be put in place should be considered in accordance with the Equality Act 2010.

• The student should be encouraged to consult any relevant support services, in particular Counselling and Wellbeing, the Disability Advisory Service, the University Study Advisers and the RUSU Student Advisers. The student may also be encouraged to consult a medical practitioner.

• A written record of the discussion and any agreed actions should be drawn up and shared with the student and a review date set. This should reinforce the student’s responsibility to take positive action to resolve the concerns raised. A copy of the written record should be placed on the student’s file.

• The student and member of staff involved should meet on the agreed date to review the situation. The majority of issues would normally be resolved at this stage.

16. If, following these initial actions at School level, there are continuing concerns, the student will be invited to attend a meeting with the School Director of Teaching and Learning or Senior Tutor to discuss these concerns and possible solutions. Schools are advised to arrange such meetings in a timely manner, in order to avoid any delays in addressing the concerns raised. The invitation to the meeting must be sent by email and letter normally five working days before the meeting is due to take place and should outline what needs to be discussed. Disabled students may be accompanied by a support worker as appropriate to their needs.

17. An action plan will be drawn up between the student and the SDTL or Senior Tutor, where appropriate, to formally agree the University’s expectations of the student, actions required of the student, and details of any support to be provided by the University. The action plan will have a review date.

18. The meeting is to be minuted and agreed outcomes should be drawn up and a copy sent to the student normally within five working days of the meeting taking place. This correspondence should state that failure to take positive action to adhere to the action plan and/or to attend the arranged review will result in further action which would normally be referred to the appropriate Teaching and Learning Dean at Stage 2. A copy should be placed on the student’s file.

19. If appropriate, the possibility of suspension, the submission of an Extenuating Circumstances request or the possibility of withdrawal from the University should be discussed with the student at the meeting. The student should be informed of the relevant policies and procedures. It should be clarified that approval at Dean level is required for all suspensions. For further details of the procedure relating to suspensions, please refer to the Policy and procedures for suspensions.

Stage 2 – Case Review by a Teaching and Learning Dean

20. If the student has not achieved the agreed actions or if it is inappropriate for stage 1 to take place, the procedure should move to Stage 2 and a Case Review will be necessary. The University reserves the right to move straight to Stage 2 where the students’ health or behaviour poses a risk of harm to either themselves or others.

21. A review of the case, led by a relevant Teaching and Learning Dean will be undertaken by relevant concerned parties, examples of which might include one or more of the following:

- The Mental Health Advisor
- The Head of Counselling and Wellbeing
- The Head of the University Medical Practice
22. The Teaching and Learning Dean, in consultation with the relevant parties, will discuss the steps taken so far and consider whether an enhanced action plan is likely to be of benefit to the student or whether the case should be referred to the Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study. The Head of the University Medical Practice and/or the Head of Student Wellbeing Services may be consulted as appropriate in order to evaluate any evidence presented by the student regarding his/ her physical or mental health. They will not be asked to provide a second opinion relating to the specific circumstances of the case.

23. Following the Teaching and Learning Dean consultation with relevant parties, the student will be invited to meet with the Teaching and Learning Dean and the Senior Tutor/another member of School staff, as appropriate, to receive and discuss the recommended actions from the Case Review. The student has the right to be accompanied by a ‘friend’ who should normally be a currently registered student of the University, a member of staff of the University, a sabbatical officer or student adviser of the Students’ Union. Disabled Students may also be accompanied by a support worker as appropriate to their needs.

24. In some cases, a student is unable to meet with the Teaching and Learning Dean due to the severity of their mental or physical health condition. In such cases, the Teaching and Learning Dean will make a decision to refer the case to the Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study. In reaching the decision, the Teaching and Learning Dean will consider all relevant information that is reasonably available to the University. The student will be informed in writing of the decision and receive a copy of the minutes of the meeting. A Case Review report will be written and submitted to the Secretary of the Committee. In such cases, the Head of the University Medical Practice and/or the Head of Student Wellbeing Services will be asked to provide a statement.

25. If the recommended action is that of an enhanced action plan, this will be drawn up by the School in consultation with the student to formally agree the University's expectations of the student and support that will be provided by the University. The action plan will have a review date and it will be made clear to the student that the consequences of not adhering to the plan will be referral to the Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study. A copy should be placed on the student’s file. The School will be responsible for monitoring compliance with the action plan and for reporting any failure to adhere to the plan to the Teaching and Learning Dean.

26. If the recommendation of the Case Review is a referral to the Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study, a Case Review report will be written and submitted to the Secretary of the Committee.

Stage 3 – Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study

27. If the recommendation following the Case Review is referral to the Standing Committee, then the procedure will move to Stage 3. Stage 2 will always be necessary in order to provide the Committee with adequate information on the case.

28. The membership of the Committee will comprise:
   - a Pro-Vice-Chancellor or the Deputy-Vice-Chancellor;
   - a Teaching and Learning Dean not already involved in the case
   - a School Director of Teaching and Learning or Senior Tutor from another School;
   - a Student Officer from the Students’ Union (RUSU);
   - a Secretary nominated by the University Secretary.
29. On receipt of the Case Review report, the Secretary will write to the student enclosing the Case Review report and any other supporting documents that will be considered by the Committee.

30. The date for the meeting of the Committee will be set in a timely fashion. The student will be informed of the procedure to be followed and the date and time of the meeting. The student is expected to attend and can do so by telephone if required and their ‘friend’ can still attend in person.

31. The Committee will be provided with a copy of the Case Review report. The Secretary will take minutes from the hearing, keep a record of the proceedings and of evidence given to the Committee. The Committee’s meetings shall be held in private.

32. The Committee may choose to consult others as appropriate.

33. The detailed procedures of the Standing Committee will be available on request from the Secretary.

34. The Committee may determine that:
   a) the student’s fitness to study is not substantially impaired, that they have demonstrated a sufficient level of academic engagement and that they may continue their studies;
   b) the student’s fitness to study is impaired and they have not demonstrated a sufficient level of academic engagement.

35. In the case of 34 a) the School will be responsible for ensuring that all reasonable efforts are made to enable the student to continue on their programme. The ongoing fitness to study and academic engagement of the student should be monitored as normal.

36. In the case of 34 b) the Committee will determine an appropriate and proportionate action: the extent to which fitness to study is impaired or academic engagement has not been demonstrated; the extent to and means by which that impairment or lack of engagement might be addressed and, if applicable, any mitigating circumstances accepted. Actions may include any of following alone or in combination:
   • formal notification to the student that their conduct has caused concern and that they must comply with any imposed conditions, which may include, but are not limited to:
     o close supervision by the School; and,
     o engagement with an appropriate medical or mental health professional; and/or,
     o engagement with a University Study Advice Team to improve the student’s academic practice;
   • suspension for a specific period of time with or without further conditions;
   • requirement to re-sit or retake part of the programme, with or without further conditions;
   • termination of current course of study but offer of a transfer of University registration to an alternative programme as determined by the University, if deemed suitable in the circumstances and agreed with the student.
   • termination of current course and removal from membership of the University, but retaining eligibility to receive any lesser award if applicable; and/or,
   • termination of current course and removal from membership of the University.

37. If conditions have been applied alongside the specified action(s), the School is responsible for monitoring compliance with academic conditions. Failure to comply with conditions will result in automatic referral back to the Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study.

38. The outcome letter and a copy of the minutes of the hearing will normally be sent to the student within five working days. This will also include information on how to make an appeal. The decision will also be communicated to the School Senior Tutor, School Director of Teaching and Learning and the Teaching and Learning Dean.

39. The Secretary will record the decision of the Committee on the student’s record where it will remain as long as the record is kept in accordance with the University’s data retention schedule.
40. Failure to accept the conditions or submit an appeal within five working days will result in the case being referred back to SCAEFS for further consideration and a decision made, usually by Chair’s Action.

Appeals process
41. Appeals against decisions of the Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study are to the Student Appeals Committee. Full details can be found in the Student Appeal Committee (SAC) Policy. The Student Appeals Committee shall have the authority either to quash or uphold the decision of the Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study.

42. The student should notify the University Secretary by email of their request for a review and the basis for that request in writing within five working days of the date of issue of the notification of the decision of the Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study.

43. Admissible grounds for review shall be one or more of the following:
   - new evidence that was not available at the time of the meeting of the Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study has become available that could materially affect the Committee’s decision;
   - the decision was based on a demonstrable error of fact;
   - the decision was not reached in accordance with these procedures or that there was prejudice or bias in the conduct of the Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study; and/or,
   - the decision of the Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study is not one which any reasonable panel would have reached based on the evidence presented.

44. The Student Appeals Committee is in no position to make a professional determination on fitness to study and, subsequently, in its review it shall determine only whether the grounds presented are valid and sufficient for the decision of the Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study to be quashed.

45. Where the appeal is upheld the Student Appeals Committee shall refer the case back to the Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study, notifying it of the grounds on which it believes the case should be re-considered. The Secretary of the Student Appeals Committee will notify the student, School Director of Teaching and Learning or their delegate, Teaching and Learning Dean, or, in a case relating to a student at a branch campus, the Provost (or their delegate), of the decision.

46. The Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study will reconvene to hear the case for a second time in the light of the decision of the Student Appeals Committee. The normal appeals process will apply with the exclusion that the basis for the appeal must not be the same substantive matter as in the first appeal.

47. If the Student Appeals Committee decides to uphold the decision of the Standing Committee on Academic Engagement and Fitness to Study its decision shall be final. The Secretary of the Student Appeals Committee will notify the student, School Director of Teaching and Learning or their delegate, Teaching and Learning Dean, or, in a case relating to a student at a branch campus, the Provost (or their delegate) of the decision. The student will be notified in writing, normally within five working days, that this decision constitutes the completion of procedures.

Support services available to students
48. The student should be encouraged by their School to consult relevant support services while their case is being dealt with under the academic engagement and fitness to study procedures. These support services may include, as appropriate, Counselling and Wellbeing, the Disability Advisory Service, the University Study Advisers and the RUSU Student Advisers. The student may also be encouraged to consult a medical practitioner.

49. Following the conclusion of the procedures, should the Standing Committee determine that the student’s membership of the University should be terminated, the student will retain the right to consult Counselling and Wellbeing for a period of six months from the date of termination.

50. For details of the entitlement of suspended students to access support services, please refer to the Policy and procedures for suspensions.
