Conflict and Development

Thursday 15 May 2014

HUMSS Building Room 406

The World Bank's 2011 World Development Report on Conflict, Security, and Development, as well as the ongoing discussions about the post 2015 development agenda have put the spotlight on the complex relationship between development, conflict, and violence. Bringing together contributions from economics, geography, and politics, this workshop provides an interdisciplinary perspective on current research in this field, examining recent insights into the causes of conflict onset and recurrence; into the character of conflict and patterns of violence; and into international efforts to address the consequences of conflict.

Speakers:

Aynur Alptekin (Reading) "Property Rights, Inequality and Conflict"

Anke Hoeffler (Oxford) "Peaceful, Stable, and Resilient Societies"

Clionadh Raleigh (Sussex) "Landscapes of Political Violence Across African States"

Dominik Zaum (Reading) "Power after Peace: The Political Economy of Statebuilding"
