INTERNATIONAL FOUNDATION PROGRAMME

WELCOMING STUDENTS FROM NIGERIA
The International Foundation Programme (IFP) is an access programme for international students. It provides an opportunity to gain a prestigious University of Reading degree or pursue undergraduate studies at other highly ranked universities.
I would like to study Psychology at the University of Reading because for a long time now I have always been interested in human behaviour and why we do the things we do.

Why did you choose the IFP at Reading?
I chose the IFP at the University of Reading because while I was doing my research, the IFP was the most inviting in terms of having support for Foundation students and I did hear a lot of good reviews from former IFP students.

How was your support before and after arrival?
The support before arriving at Reading was very comforting. I did receive a lot of emails about what to expect from the IFP at Reading. I also got emails from my Star Mentor (student mentor) asking me if I had any questions. I was told where to meet up and where to register.

The support after arrival was equally as comforting as the support before arrival. All the Welcome Week activities helped me settle in well.

What is your favourite thing about the IFP and the University of Reading?
The best thing about the IFP is that there are many social events which allow us to showcase all our different cultures.

On the IFP games night we got to play different games from all around the world – it’s a way that we can talk to our peers about our culture and we learn different things about each other.

My favourite thing about the University of Reading is that it is a campus university. Everything is really accessible so we don’t have to walk miles to get somewhere.
