Dr Alan Lakin – former student at the University, Senior Lecturer in Food Science.

Mr Gordon Rowley – Lecturer in Agricultural Botany in 1961, retired in 1981.
Professor John ‘Kerry’ Downes – Lecturer in Fine Art in 1966, Reader in 1971, 19/44 The Minutes (19/17 - 19/39) of the meeting held on 27 June 2019 were approved.

19/45 Matters arising

19/20 Update on the University of Reading Malaysia (UoRM)
The Deputy Vice-Chancellor gave a verbal report to the Senate on his recent visit to UoRM. It was reported that:

- Work was progressing well on implementing the revised business plan
- A renegotiated contract had now been signed with the landlord
- Staff restructuring had been undertaken
- The QAA had recently visited UoRM

It was noted that a recent visit from the Vice-Chancellor had also been positive. Thanks were recorded to all those involved in the revised business plan.

19/21 Report of the Vice-Chancellor – Augar Review
It was noted that the Conservative manifesto for the upcoming election did not mention any lowering of tuition fees.

19/21 Report of the Vice-Chancellor – UCU
It was noted that the University & College Union (UCU) had given formal notice that they would be encouraging their members to participate in industrial action, including both full strike action and action short of strike (ASOS). The notified periods were:

- Strike action: 25, 26, 27, 28, 29 November 2019 and 2, 3, 4 December 2019

The UCU had entered into disputes with the University relating to the National Pay Bargaining process (and related issues) and the USS pension scheme. These matters affected universities across the UK, and the substantive issues on pay and pensions could only be resolved through the appropriate collective negotiations at national level.

19/46 Membership of the Senate in 2019/20 (Item 4)
The Senate received a list of its membership for the session 2019/20 and noted Ordinance A3.
The Senate received a presentation from the Director of Marketing, Communications and Engagement in respect of the Brand Review.

It was noted that:

- In light of the outcomes of the ongoing strategy development work, and the need to better define the University’s brand proposition to more clearly position ourselves in an uncertain and competitive HE market, a review had been undertaken of the University of Reading brand.

- It was noted that the review had sought to distil or translate the new, emerging strategy into a revised brand proposition framework i.e. what we are trying to achieve where as our brand articulates who we are, what we stand for, and how we will go about delivering the strategy.

- The review had followed two operating principles – 1) Evolution not Revolution, 2) Owned by our community - The consultation on the University Strategy along with feedback received regularly over the past few years had made it clear that the majority of our University community felt no connection with the current ‘Limitless’ brand positioning. For many at the University, the ‘Limitless’ brand proposition felt inauthentic. It was essential therefore that a new articulation of the brand was inclusive; was defined by our people; and was articulated and ‘owned’ by us. The success of the brand review was dependent on our staff and students buying into and living the outputs as a true reflection of who we are.

- It was reported that a Brand Review Working Group had been established, bringing together representatives from across the University community including colleagues from Schools and Functions, from the Teaching and Learning and Research communities, from RUSU and Student Services and from representative groups at the institution. Whilst it was essential that the project was inclusive, it was also important that it was manageably contained, timewise, in order to deliver outputs to coincide with the development of the 2021 student recruitment campaign and associated materials. Members were therefore invited to participate in five workshop-style sessions over five weeks (our Purpose, Proof and Positioning, Personality and Tone, Review and Revise, Sign-off and next steps).

- From the work the following brand essence had been developed: Making a better world, together

- Our brand values - our core, defining attributes that, combined, make us uniquely who we are and run through everything we do, were: The power of community, change makers, Boldly principled, Custodians, Globally connecting

- Our brand personalities: The character traits that reflect our values and essence and determine how we express ourselves at all times. We are:
  - Nurturing, not Overbearing
  - Smart, not Elitist
  - Curious, not Complacent
Proud, not Brash
Genuine, not Insincere
Serious, not Stuffy
Spirited, not Frivolous Confident, not Reckless Ambitious, not Aggressive

- The Senate noted that framework outlined presented the beginning of the brand review journey, e.g. the framework would need to be changed into an accessible and usable set of guidelines, tools and templates. It was designed for internal use only and was work in progress.

Members of the Senate were invited to consider the following questions, the input of which would be fed into ongoing work: 1) Guidelines, templates and tools – what does/doesn’t work within existing tools and templates and what would you find most useful to be included in the future, 2) How we work – how can we engage individual colleagues across the institution to gain real buy-in for the new brand, in a behavioural/cultural sense.

Answers to these questions were provided and taken away for consideration by the Director of Marketing, Communication and Engagement. Overall, Senate was very positive about the approach that was being taken and the ideas that had arisen.

19/48 Subject Level TEF (Item 6)

The Senate received a presentation from the Deputy Vice-Chancellor in respect of Subject Level TEF.

It was noted that:

- The TEF was introduced in 2016 by Government to: better inform students’ choice, raise esteem for teaching, recognise and reward better teaching, meet the need of employers. It covered undergraduate provision only.
- The current provider level award for Reading TEF 2017 was silver.
- The University entered the 2018/19 subject-level TEF pilot. This was a confidential exercise testing a redefined methodology. It assessed against criteria grouped under three aspects of quality (teaching quality, learning environment, student outcomes and learning gain). The assessment drew on 3 years of metrics, including NSS, DLHE and LEO.
- The University submitted a provider submission and 24 subject submissions.
- The exercise required a significant investment of time from Colleagues.
- The pilot exercise was confidential – only individuals who needed access to the information to allow the provider to participate in the pilot were given access to the data; data was not disclosed to any third party; a record of individuals to whom access had been granted was maintained.

- An independent review of TEF had been completed and was with the Government. Publication was due at the end of October 2019 but the election had changed this. The Government was still aiming for the first subject level TEF outcomes in 2021. A Provider level TEF would run in 2020.

19/49  Report of the Vice-Chancellor (Item 7)

The Senate received the Vice-Chancellor’s address to the Senate, noting in particular:

a) University Strategy

UB had continued to develop its thinking on the new University strategy, particularly around activities to implement the strategic principles. The Leadership Group had been consulted on these priorities, the outputs of which would be shared in due course. The Vice-Chancellor had made the University strategy the focus of the all-staff talks this term. For Senate, the principle of ‘Excellence’ and the aspiration ‘to be in the top quartile in the UK sector for our undergraduate and postgraduate education and research’ were of particular relevance. With regard to next steps, UEB had been tasked with presenting an update on the Strategy to the University Council in November. Schools and Functions would develop their own objectives and targets through the planning process. Council was seeking to finalise the strategy, including how to measure progress, by March 2020.

b) University Executive Board Change

With the departure of Enzo Raimo (PVC Global Engagement) earlier this term and Gavin Brooks (PVC Teaching and Learning) at the end of December, the University was seeking to appoint a Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Education) and Pro-Vice-Chancellor (International and Student Experience).

The Pro-Vice-Chancellor (Education) would be responsible for ensuring that the University of Reading provided an excellent education to all of its students and made significant progress towards its aspiration to be in the top quartile in the UK sector for undergraduate and postgraduate teaching excellence, during a time at which the real value of tuition fees was expected to decline significantly. The Pro-Vice-Chancellor (International and Student Experience) would be responsible for delivering an excellent student experience for all our students in the UK and abroad, whilst strengthening the University of Reading’s global engagement and improve the recruitment of international students.

c) Environmental Sustainability – ECMWF

In a visit to the University on Friday 18 October 2019, the UK Universities and Science Minister, Chris Skidmore MP, confirmed the UK government’s commitment to build a new headquarters for the European Centre for Medium-Range Weather Forecasts (ECMWF) on the University’s Whiteknights campus. ECMWF was currently working with the UK Government and the University on plans to relocate from its existing location by 2024.
d) Brexit
With the UK scheduled to leave the European Union, the Brexit Working Group has met to consider the risks related to our activities, particularly of no deal. The Group, led by Sam Foley and including colleagues from across the University, would continue to meet regularly to coordinate preparations. The Group was also putting together an institutional Risk Register with a view to manage our response to major risks.

The Brexit advice on the website had also been updated for staff, students and suppliers.

e) Community Forum
Last month, the University held the first in a new look Community Forum to start to strengthen the partnership between the University and the local community.

f) British Museum
With construction work of the access road to the new Archaeological Research Collection under way, strong foundations have been laid for our institutional partnership with the British Museum (BM). The discussions with the British Museum were being led by Professor Roberta Gilchrist.
