

ITE Pre-Programme Information

Secondary Art and Design Information for offer holders

You can read:

- Hickman, R. (2010). Why we make art and why it is taught. Intellect publications, Bristol
- Burgess, L. and Addison, N. (Eds) (2014, 3rd Ed) Learning to teach art and design in the secondary school. London, Routledge, Falmer

You can watch:

Ken Robinson 'The Element' on YouTube

You can visit:

- Tate Britain
- Tate Modern
- The National Gallery
- The Hayward Gallery
- The Victoria & Albert Museum
- Reading Museum

You can start to make a drawing a day, even if it is only for one minute a day.

You can start to create a timeline of art history or you can create a timeline of areas of art/design/textiles/sculpture with which you are less familiar

You can start to create a timeline of women artists and designers

You can put together a portfolio of your own work ready for a Sept exhibition

You can join the art education professional body NSEAD as a student.