FOOD STANDARDS AGENCY CONSULTATION
Title: The Food Additives, Flavourings, Enzymes and Extraction Solvents (England) Regulations 2013

CONSULTATION SUMMARY PAGE

Date consultation launched: 10 April 2013
Closing date for responses: 5 June 2013

Who will this consultation be of most interest to?
Food manufacturers; Food additive, enzyme, flavouring and extraction solvent suppliers/manufacturers; Enforcement authorities; Consumers

What is the subject of this consultation?
Consolidation of ‘food additive’ type legislation into a single instrument (SI). ‘Food additive’ type legislation covers: food additives, food enzymes, flavourings (including smoke flavourings) and extraction solvents. Revocation of emergency measure on Red 2G and minor amendments to food additive and flavouring provisions.

What is the purpose of this consultation?

FOOD HYGIENICALLY
The Food Additives, Flavourings, Enzymes and Extraction Solvents (England) Regulations 2013

DETAIL OF CONSULTATION

1. We would welcome your comments on:

- The proposed Food Additives, Flavourings, Enzymes and Extraction Solvents (England) Regulations 2013 (“the proposed Regulations”), attached as Annex C. The proposed Regulations will replace the current statutory instruments on food additives, flavourings, food enzymes, smoke flavourings and extraction solvents.

- The proposed Regulations will revoke and re-enact, with necessary amendments all existing ‘food additive’ type national legislation, within the Food Standards Agency’s (FSA) remit in one consolidated instrument. This is part of the FSA’s intention to introduce a simplified system of food safety legislation in response to the UK Government’s Red Tape Challenge Initiative (RTC).

- Details of changes to the national legislation are discussed in paragraphs 12, 14-16 below.

- An Impact Assessment has not been produced for these proposals, as the expectation is that the impact will be negligible. If, however, the consultation should bring to light any impact on enforcement bodies or industry, which has not been anticipated, the need for an Impact Assessment will be reconsidered.

2. The FSA in Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland will be carrying out consultations on parallel but separate Regulations relating to those parts of the UK.

Introduction

3. The purpose of this consultation is to seek comments from interested parties on the proposed consolidation and statutory instrument, which includes the use of compliance notices for non-safety related contraventions. As the proposed legislation is mainly a consolidation of existing national measures, no significant impacts are expected.

Background

4. Harmonised European legislation controls the use of food additives, flavourings, smoke flavourings, food enzymes and extraction solvents in the European Union. The relevant Regulations and Directives are listed in Annex B.

5. In general, all the above substances are controlled by way of positive lists e.g. only authorised substances can be used in food and substances must meet specific conditions of use. For food enzymes and for certain categories of flavourings, work is underway to establish the positive lists.

6. Schedule 5 of the proposed Regulations lists the 12 principal statutory instruments and their amendments that currently cover ‘food additive’ type (national) legislation. The controls on food additives, flavourings (including smoke flavourings) and food enzymes are set out in European Regulations, which are directly applicable in all European Member States. Therefore, the national legislation in these areas only cover enforcement provisions for the relevant European Regulations e.g. list offences and specify penalties for non-compliance. The controls on extraction solvents are specified in European Directives and all requirements were transposed into national law (see Annex E).

National Regulations being revoked and consolidated

7. The proposed Regulations will revoke the following national Regulations:

- The Extraction Solvents in Food Regulations 1993\(^1\)
- The Extraction Solvents in Food (Amendment) Regulations 1995\(^2\)
- The Extraction Solvents in Food (Amendment) Regulations 1998\(^3\)
- The Food (Suspension of the Use of E128 Red 2G as a Food Colour) (England) Regulations 2007\(^4\)
- The Extraction Solvents in Food (Amendment) (England) Regulations 2011\(^5\)
- The Smoke Flavourings (England) Regulations 2005\(^6\)
- The Food Enzymes Regulations 2009\(^7\) Regulations 3, 4, 5 and 6
- The Food Additives (England) Regulations 2009\(^8\) - All provisions except regulations 1, 2, 18 and 19
- The Food Additives (England) (Amendment) Regulations 2011\(^9\)
- The Food Additives (England) (Amendment) (No.2) Regulations 2011\(^10\)
- The Food Additives (England) (Amendment) and the Extraction Solvents in Food (Amendment) (England) Regulations 2012\(^11\)
- The Flavourings in Food (England) Regulations 2010\(^12\) - All provisions except regulations 1, 2 and 7.

Red Tape Challenge

8. In April 2011 the Government launched the Red Tape Challenge (RTC) initiative\(^13\) with the purpose of getting comments from businesses and the public on how the burden of legislation can be reduced. For devolved issues, such as food safety, the RTC applies to England only. On 6 May 2011 most of the FSA's legislation was published on the RTC website under the Hospitality Theme and remained on the site until 2 June 2011. The FSA has a number of initiatives being delivered under the RTC\textsuperscript{14}, including developing a simplified system of food safety legislation. The proposed consolidation and revocation of ‘food additive’ type legislation is part of a wider simplification of food safety legislation, the intention of which is to make it easier for businesses and enforcement bodies to access the legislation that affects them.

Proposals

9. For the majority of the ‘food additive’ type legislation no changes are required to the current measures i.e. enzymes, smoke flavourings and extraction solvents. The changes relating to food additives and flavourings are described in the following paragraphs. For extraction solvents, the provisions have been simplified and will refer directly to Annex I of the European Directive (as amended) with the effect that any changes to the list of permitted extraction solvents or their conditions of use will directly apply. Annex E of this consultation document contains a transposition table which shows the link between the regulations on extraction solvents in the draft SI and the relevant Articles in Directive 2009/32/EC.

Compliance Notices

10. The proposed Regulations introduces the use of compliance notices for non-food safety related contraventions, including labelling provisions for business to business sales, the aim of which is to ensure that sanctions are appropriate and proportionate. For food safety offences existing criminal sanctions will apply. The criminal sanctions for food safety offences will include the use of unpermitted additives or exceeding specified maximum permitted levels.

11. Consideration will be given to updating the Food Law Code of Practice guidance document regarding the use of compliance notices.

Additives

12. Currently the Food Additives (England) Regulations 2009 No. 3238 has a dual function - as well as enforcing the Additives Regulation (EC) No. 1333/2008 it also enables the Annexes and associated Articles of the three previous Directives on sweeteners, colours and miscellaneous additives to continue to apply by way of transitional provisions. This dual function is required until 1 June 2013 when the relevant provisions in the three Directives are transferred to Annexes II and III of Regulation (EC) No. 1333/2008 and so will cease to apply.

13. Food Standards Agency guidance on the food additives legislation, in particular Annexes II and III, is being prepared and will be consulted on shortly.

Flavourings

14. An amendment is required to the Flavourings in Food (England) Regulations 2010 No. 2817 to reflect the different dates of application of the Union (positive) list of flavourings and the new transitional periods as set out in Commission Regulation (EU) No. 873/2012 (see para 16). The existing SI No. 2817 simply refers to the transitional measures as set out in Article 30 of the Flavourings Regulation (EC) No. 1334/2008 and therefore does not take into account the recently agreed different dates of application of the Union list as set out in Regulation 873/2012.

\textsuperscript{14} http://www.food.gov.uk/enforcement/regulation/betregs/red-tape-challenge/
15. Initially, the Union list will only cover one category of flavouring - chemically defined flavouring substances - as the other categories of flavourings and non-food source materials that also require approval have not yet been evaluated. Therefore, the date of application for the Union list for the other categories of flavourings (and non-food source materials) has been deferred to allow the time for evaluation and authorisation process.

16. The date of application of the Union list for flavourings substances will be 22 April 2013 and for the other categories of flavourings and non-food source materials the date of application of the Union list is 22 October 2016. The transitional periods are 22 October 2014 and 22 April 2018 for flavouring substances and source materials/other types of flavourings respectively.

Red 2G

17. As part of EFSA’s re-evaluation of all permitted food additives, in 2007 the safety of the approved colour E 128 Red 2G was reassessed. Due to concerns over the safety of a metabolite of Red 2G (i.e. aniline) the Acceptable Daily Intake (ADI) for E 128 was withdrawn. Subsequently the Commission adopted emergency measures suspending the use of Red 2G as a food additive (Regulation (EC) No. 844/2007). Additionally Red 2G will not appear on the Union list of food additives i.e. Annex II of Regulation (EC) No. 1333/2008. The emergency measure was implemented into national legislation by The Food (Suspension of the Use of E 128 Red 2G as a Food Colour) (England) Regulations 2007 SI No. 2266.

18. Regulation 1129/2011 establishes the Union list of food additives (Annex II of Regulation 1333/2008) and also repeals the emergency measure on Red 2G from 1 June 2013. Therefore the associated national measure banning the use of this additive is no longer required and can be revoked from 1 June 2013.

Proposed SI – The Food Additives, Flavourings, Enzymes and Extraction Solvents (England) Regulations 2013

19. The proposed Regulations will revoke and remake in a single consolidated instrument all‘food additive’ type legislation. This will aid businesses and enforcement officers in identifying the relevant legislation in this area. No significant changes are being proposed to the current legislation; however, minor amendments are required to the food additives and flavouring legislation. Additionally there will be a change to how the provisions for extraction solvents are drafted. We do not envisage any cost impacts for this new SI, but would welcome comments on this aspect.

Impact on Businesses and Enforcement Authorities

21. The FSA considers that the impact on both enforcement authorities (EA) and industry of the proposed Regulations will be negligible. As such, we have not produced an Impact Assessment; if, however, the consultation should bring to light any impact on enforcement bodies or businesses, which has not been anticipated, the need for an impact assessment will be considered.

22. An 8-week consultation is being launched to provide interested parties with the opportunity to comment on these proposals. The consolidation of ‘food additive’ type legislation is considered by the FSA to be beneficial in terms of grouping similar legislation into a single instrument. Additionally, the minor amendments are required to reflect changes to the harmonised European legislation in this area.

Consultation Process

23. Interested parties have previously been notified of this proposed action, most recently in the July 2012 Chemical Safety Interested Parties letter (http://www.food.gov.uk/multimedia/pdfs/enforcement/chem-safety-july12.pdf). It has also been reported on the FSA website - Delivery of Red Tape Challenge initiatives (http://www.food.gov.uk/enforcement/regulation/betregs/red-tape-challenge/).

24. The FSA now welcomes comments from all interested parties on the proposed Regulations. We would particularly encourage responses from food manufacturers, food additive, enzyme, flavouring and extraction solvent suppliers/manufacturers and enforcement authorities.

25. Interested parties are particularly invited to respond to the following questions:

Questions asked in this consultation:

Q1: Stakeholders are invited to comment on the proposed consolidation of all ‘food additive’ type legislation into a single statutory instrument and whether it will make it easier for business and other stakeholders to find legislation that affects them?

If you agree or disagree, please provide evidence to support your views.

Q2: The FSA considers that the impact on both enforcement authorities and industry of the proposed consolidation will be negligible.

If you agree or disagree with this assessment, please provide evidence.
to support your views.

Q3: Are there existing provisions which have not been replicated in the new legislation?

Q4(a): The proposed Regulations introduce the use of compliance notices for non-food safety contraventions. Do you have any comments on the use of compliance notices for non-food safety contraventions?

Please provide evidence to support your views.

Q4(b): Will the introduction of compliance notices for non-food safety contraventions provide adequate protection for consumers?

If you agree or disagree with the introduction of compliance notices, please provide evidence to support your views.

Q4(c): Will the introduction of compliance notices for non-food safety contraventions result in any new costs for industry and/or enforcement authorities?

Please provide evidence to support your views.

Q5: Are the proposed criminal sanctions appropriate and proportionate?

Q6: Do enforcement officers and/or their representative bodies have any specific comments on regulations 7 and 8 of the draft SI regarding the compliance notices?

26. Any comments that interested parties are able to provide in relation to the proposed Regulations would be gratefully received. We are particularly keen to hear from Small and Medium Enterprises (SMEs) on any likely impact and would encourage them to comment on all aspects of this proposal.

27. Please send your response by email or post using the contact details given on page 1.

28. Following the consultation, we will review the responses received and consider whether any changes are required to the proposed legislation. A summary of all comments received and the FSA’s response to each will be published on the FSA’s website within 3 months following the end of the consultation period.

29. Separate consultations will be carried out in Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland on the consolidation of the Regulations in those parts of the UK.

Compliance with the EU framework on food safety and quality standards is crucial to ensure the safety and quality of food products, as well as the reputation of the EU food industry. This involves a comprehensive approach where food additives, enzymes, and flavourings are regulated to prevent potential health hazards and ensure consumer safety.

The Secretary of State makes the following Regulations in exercise of the powers conferred by sections 16(1)(a),(e) and (f),17(1) and (2), 26(1)(a) and (b), (2)(e) and (f) and (3), and 48(1) of the Food Safety Act 1990(20) and now vested in him(21),as read with paragraph 1A of Schedule 2 to the European Communities Act 1972(22).

In accordance with section 48(4A) of the Food Safety Act 1990, he has had regard to relevant advice given by the Food Standards Agency.

These Regulations make provision for a purpose mentioned in section 2(2) of the European Communities Act 1972 and it appears to the Secretary of State that it is expedient for any reference to an Article of or an Annex to any of the EU instruments specified in regulation 2(4) to be construed as a reference to that Article or that Annex as amended from time to time.

As required by Article 9 of Regulation (EC) No. 178/2002 of the European Parliament and of the Council laying down the general principles and requirements of food law, establishing the European Food Safety Authority and laying down procedures in matters of food safety(23), there has been open and transparent public consultation during the preparation and evaluation of these Regulations.

(20) 1990 c. 16. Section 1(1) and (2) (definition of "food") was substituted by S.I. 2004/2990. Sections 17 and 48 were amended by paragraphs 12 and 21 respectively of Schedule 5 to the Food Standards Act 1999 (1999 c.28), “the 1999 Act”. Section 48 was also amended by S.I. 2004/2990. Section 26(3) was amended by Schedule 6 to the 1999 Act. Section 53(2) was amended by paragraph 19 of Schedule 16 to the Deregulation and Contracting Out Act 1994 (1994 c.40), Schedule 6 to the 1999 Act, S.I. 2004/2990 and S.I. 2004/3279.

(21) Functions formerly exercisable by “the Ministers” (being, in relation to England and Wales and acting jointly, the Minister of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food and the Secretaries of State respectively concerned with health in England and food and health in Wales and, in relation to Scotland, the Secretary of State) are now exercisable in relation to England by the Secretary of State pursuant to paragraph 8 of Schedule 5 to the Food Standards Act 1999 (1999 c. 28). Those functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Wales, were transferred to the National Assembly for Wales by S.I. 1999/672 as read with section 40(3) of the 1999 Act and subsequently transferred to the Welsh Ministers by paragraph 30 of Schedule 11 to the Government of Wales Act 2006 (2006 c.32). Those functions, so far as exercisable in relation to Scotland, were transferred to the Scottish Ministers by section 53 of the Scotland Act 1998 (1998 c. 46) as read with section 40(2) of the 1999 Act.

(22) 1972 c.68. Paragraph 1A of Schedule 2 was inserted by section 28 of the Legislative and Regulatory Reform Act 2006 (2006, c.51) and amended by Part 1 of Schedule 1 to the European Union (Amendment) Act 2008 (2008 c.7).

(23) OJ No. L31, 1.2.2002, p.1. That Regulation was last amended by Commission Regulation (EC) No. 596/2009 of the European Parliament and of the Council adapting a number of instruments subject to the procedure...

Transposition of EU Extraction Solvents Directive - Annex E

Background

European legislation on extraction solvents has existed since the late 1980s - Directive 88/344/EEC on the approximation of the laws of the Member States on extraction solvents used in the production of foodstuffs and food ingredients. This was transposed into national legislation in 1993.

Directive 88/344/EEC (as amended) was repealed and recast in 2009 by Directive 2009/32/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council on the approximation of the laws of the Member States on extraction solvents used in the production of foodstuffs and food ingredients. Directive 2009/32/EC was simply a recast of the existing rules therefore no changes were required to the national implementing legislation.

In the proposed draft SI, the drafting of the provisions on extraction solvents have been simplified and there is now closer textual alignment with Directive 2009/32/EC. However, the requirements on food business operators remain the same.

In addition, to avoid unnecessary duplication between domestic and EU text and in order to gain the advantages of ambulatory references, regulations in the SI have been drafted to refer directly to Annex I of the European Directive (as amended) with the effect that any changes to the list of permitted extraction solvents (including any new permitted solvents) or their conditions of use will directly apply.

Certain Articles of Directive 2009/32/EC do not need to be transposed into national law as they relate to general obligations on Member States or administrative provisions or deal with historical issues such as entry into force and the repeal of previous legislation.
