YOUR ARRIVAL

Travelling by taxi
If you’re travelling by taxi you should go to the reception for your Hall.

• Reception area for St George’s Hall:
  St George’s Hall
  Upper Redlands Rd
  Reading
  RG1 5HZ

• Reception address for Benyon Hall and Sherfield Hall:
  Sherfield Hall
  Northcourt Avenue
  Reading
  RG2 7EY

Travelling to your Hall by train or coach
If you arrive at Reading railway station by train or the RailAir coach it’s advisable to get a taxi or bus to your Hall reception. As a guide, a taxi from the station to your Hall should cost between £7 and £10.

If you have very little luggage you can travel by bus. Reading Buses colour code their buses so it’s easy to make sure you have the right bus to campus. The Claret 21 bus (very dark red, shown below) starts from stop EJ outside the station (found behind the RailAir coaches) and stops on campus. It runs every 7–15 minutes.

Other buses which bring you close to campus are available. Download the Reading Buses free app available on iOS or Android for help with route planning and purchasing mobile tickets. You can also pay in cash and via contactless payments on the bus.

A single journey will cost £2 on the app or in cash. Please note you must have the correct money. No change is given. See readingbuses.co.uk/university for more information.

Arriving at your Hall
On your arrival go directly to your Hall reception to check in and collect your room keys/card.

You will need to bring a number of key documents with you and have them to hand when you arrive

• photo ID (e.g. passport, driving licence)
• any official paperwork you have received from the University
• bank details, cards etc
• visa information.

It’s a good idea to put all your documents in one folder or plastic wallet so you have them ready to hand at check in.

Out of hours arrival
If your reception is closed when you arrive please use the call point at reception, or call the Halls Hotline on: 0800 029 1984 (more information can be found in the Arriving on campus out of hours guide).

Make sure you complete your inventory forms
Within 24 hours of arrival you must complete your inventory form, which you can find on the Home at Halls app.

Your inventories are important as they record the condition of your room and kitchen on arrival and will be used to determine any change in condition during your residency, and if appropriate, any damage charges when you leave.

If you don’t complete your inventory it will be assumed that your room and kitchen are in good order. These are a record only and won’t be acted upon, so if something requires attention please call the Halls Hotline on 0800 029 1984.
