

'Evaluating the Impact of R2P - 10 years on: An idea whose time has come and gone?'

Lincoln Law School, University of Lincoln

22 April 2016

Registration and Welcome Talk	10.00-10.40	University Library Room 110, Seminar Room, Brayford Pool Campus (We are in this room all day except for lunch).
Session 1	10.40-12.30	Professor James Pattison (University of Manchester): 'The Responsibility to Protect and International Political Theory' Dr Alexandra Bohm (University of Sheffield): 'State resilience and International Community assistance - rethinking the global-local relationship to enable better atrocity prevention' Discussant: Dr Graham Melling (University of Lincoln) Chair: Dr Christy Shucksmith (University of Lincoln)
Lunch	12.30-1.30	David Chiddick Building (Business and Law) Room BL1106
Session 2	1.30-3.15	Dr Julia Schmidt (University of Exeter): Regional Organisations and RtoP Dr Stuart Wallace (University of Nottingham) and Dr Conall Mallory (University of Northumbria): 'The Libyan Intervention and Responsibility while Protecting' Discussant: Dr Christy Shucksmith Chair: Dr Sam Abboud (University of Dundee)
Afternoon Break	3.15-3.45	Break
Session 3	3.45-5.30	Dr Justin Morris (University of Hull): 'The Responsibility to Protect and the Responsibility not to Veto: A responsibility too far?' Dr Aiden Hehir (University of Westminster): 'A "Responsibility" or "Duty" to Protect? Politics and the Enforcement of International Law' Dr Sarah Sargent (University of Buckingham): 'Explaining R2P's Ineffectiveness: International Norms and Domestic Salience' Chair: Professor Duncan French (Head of School, University of Lincoln) Discussant: Dr Vassilis P. Tzevelekos (University of Liverpool)
Closing remarks and final discussion	5.30-6	This session allows for reflection on all papers and consideration of outputs and future collaboration.