

GLOBAL LAW AT READING (GLAR)

THE GHANDHI RESEARCH SEMINAR SERIES 2017-2018

GLAR is the home of public international law, EU law and human rights law at the University of Reading. The Gandhi Research Seminar Series showcases the work of experts in these fields. The series was launched in 2015 and is convened by Professor James A. Green. It is named in honour of Professor Sandy Gandhi, who taught at the School of Law from 1978 to 2013 and remains an emeritus professor at Reading.

Anyone is welcome to attend these seminars, and attendance is free. However, visitors coming from outside of the University of Reading are kindly asked to send advance notification that they will be attending: globallaw@reading.ac.uk.

All seminars will take place from 13:00-14:00, in Foxhill House room G.04, School of Law, University of Reading.

15 November 2017

Dr Joshua Paine

Max Planck Institute Luxembourg

International Adjudication as a Global Public Good?

Chair: Marie Aronsson-Storrier

17 January 2018

Dr Danae Azaria

University College London

The International Law Commission as an Interpreter of International Law

Chair: Professor James Green

14 March 2018

Dr Sascha-Dominik Bachmann

Bournemouth University

Lawfare in a Hybrid Warfare Context – A Contemporary Discussion

Chair: Dr Lawrence Hill-Cawthorne

18 April 2018

Dr Noelle Quenivet

University of the West of England

The Human Rights Obligations of the United Nations: Sources and Scope of Application

Chair: Dr Alison Bisset